

Canceling or editing an invitation to join your organization

Organization owners can edit or cancel an invitation to become a member of your organization any time before the user accepts.

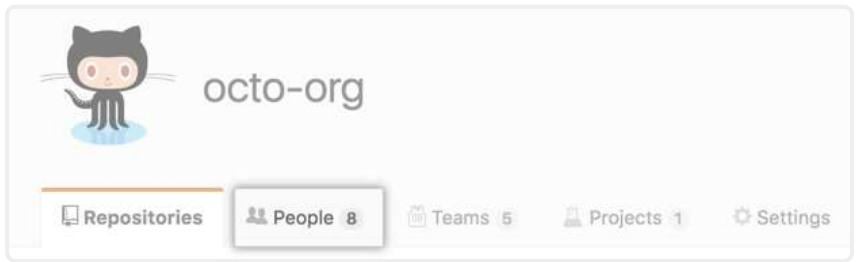

In the top right corner of GitHub, click your profile photo, then click Your profile.

On the left side of your profile page, under "Organizations", click the icon for your organization.

Under your organization name, click  People.

On the People tab, click Pending invitation.

Next to the username or email address of the person whose invitation you'd like to edit or cancel, click Edit invitation.

You may need to click View all invitations at the bottom of the window to find the person you're looking for.

Decide whether to edit or cancel the user's invitation to join your organization.

Edit The Octocat's invitation to jmarlena-test-org

Originally invited by Jessica Canepa. As an owner, you can give The Octocat a different role and pick different teams for them.

☒ Member

Members can see all other members, and can be granted access to repositories. They can also create new teams and repositories.

☐ Owner

Owners have full administrative rights to the organization and have complete access to all repositories and teams.

Optionally, you can also add The Octocat to some teams.
